

If I'm the fortunate few that actually got through, thank you for spending some time in considering my comment(s)

Secondly, for all those who I have willingly put in power, heed my comment(s)

It is really simple, and I pose it in questions:

Will content be diluted or controlled if a newspaper megacorporation owns a television corporation as well?

Is today media bias in anyway? Does it represent the multitude of ideas and culture that exists in America, which makes us an unique state?

These are the first round of question that I TRULY want you to ponder before an erroneous decision. Many more will come!

Thank you for allowing me to be democratic.

peace and love
